

Congratulations!
You have just won an award.

Think first and take notes:

- What is your achievement?
- Who helped you?
- What strength helped you succeed?
- What will people say about you?
- In which language(s) will they say it?

Share your ideas with a partner.

Teacher Educator of the Year 2036: Beth's Story

- What kind of text is it?
- Who is this text about?
- Why is she in the news?
- Is this text about the past, present or future?

Highlight the text :

- Who is the person & the award
- What did the person do & their strengths
- What people say (quotes, voices)

Underline the verbs

- What time period do the sentences talk about?

Languages in the Text:

- Are all sentences in English?
Underline those that are not.
- Why are some quotes in different languages?
- Who is speaking in these parts?

Write your own future magazine article!

- Length: 80–150 words
- Language: Mostly English
- You may use other languages in quotes or short parts
- Use some of the sentence stems on the handout

Peer Review

Give your partner feedback on:

- clarity (Is the text easy to understand?)
- vocabulary (Are there other words that your partner could use for the article?)
- tense accuracy

Give your partner:

- ★ Two Stars = two things that are very good
- 🌟 One Wish = one suggestion to make the text better

Now write a final version of your magazine article!

- Check your grammar
- Add more details
- Read through your own text
